Library News

Reading Goals are so important to our students. Our teachers have set reading goals for their classes to encourage the love of reading. October 17th is the end of our first quarter of school. This is a very exciting time for the students and library because it is the time that teachers report to the library who has met their reading goal for the last nine weeks. When students meet their reading goals they are honored by our local Lions Club for a job well done and will be allowed an extra library time to celebrate their success . Parties for meeting your reading goal the first two quarters of school will be held in the library in December. There is still time for students to meet this quarter's reading goal or help them to get ready to meet next quarter's reading goal. Have your students read to you or any family member to encourage reading.

Happy Reading

Hi Auburn Families!

Conference week is coming up and AE teachers and staff will be in back-to-back conferences after school Wednesday, October 19th and all-day Thursday, October 20th. AE PTO will be providing dinner for staff and teachers Wednesday evening, but we thought it would be a kind gesture to stock the staff lounge with drinks and snacks so they can refuel throughout the day between conferences on Thursday. If you are able to help stock the lounge, please sign up below and have all items at the school by Wednesday, October 19th.

Thank you for your support!
